Introduction

- Today we are going to learn “Readers Theater”. You can just read the script. And you can do some gestures in your reading.
- Let’s read the script together. There are Chinese, Hakka and English in the script.
- Three or four people a group. Please discuss and assign the reading tasks. Then design the gestures together.
- Please practice in a group.
- Now it’s Show Time. Please show on the stage.
- Please be a good audience. Look at the show quietly.

Feedback

- The students can speak English and Chinese well. Hakka is a bit hard for the students.
- Students are not good at doing the gestures because they are a little shy.
- A group of students also create sound effects, which is really amazing.
